CRUSADE IS STARTED.

A Big Executive Committee Named Last Evening

AT THE MUSIC HALL MEETING.

Measures to Be Taken at Once to Suppress Illegal Liquor Sales.

Over one hundred and fifty men and women interested in the temperance crusade started by Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, assembled at Music hall last evening.

All who were there had been appointed members of the crusade committee by the various church and temperance organizations of the city and they were there for business.

The meeting was called to order by Judge F. G. Adams, who stated the object of the meeting and announced that the original committee had agreed upon Hon. S. T. Howe as temporary chairman.

A. K. Rodgers was made secretary of the meeting.

Prof. E. B. Cowgill moved that a committee consisting of H. C. Bowman, D. C. Carson and Mrs. L. E. Carson be appointed on credentials. The committee was named, and after all the delegates had been enrolled the committee was made permanent to look after the membership of the general crusade committee.

A committee to report officers for permanent organization was appointed, consisting of E. B. Cowgill, H. C. Bowman, Mrs. J. W. Thurston, N. Y. Drew and John Nystrom.

While the committee on permanent organization was preparing its report, the meeting was addressed by several temperance workers.

Rev. C. M. Sheldon was first called for. He said that while we are all now more interested in the great railroad strike than in any other one thing, yet the cause for which we are working represents more money every year than the railroad strike. If the strike should be declared off tomorrow, the loss would be great to the financial world, yet the amount of money lost through drink amounts to billions every year. He said he hoped a municipal league would grow out of this agitation, and that party politics might be taken out of our municipal elections; the only question then involved would be the fitness of the men for the office.

In describing one of the places he visited in his rounds among the slums he said he saw more beer than he had seen since he was in Milwaukee.

Thos. H. Bain said he had been slumming, too, and that he had seen some awful things. The most important information he had to impart was that he had seen the sons of some of the people in this meeting drinking beer in the clubs he visited, and that he saw the prospective son-in-law of one of his best friends drinking beer in one of the clubs. He said all the (the clubs claim to have had their articles of incorporation drawn by lawyers after the Topeka club decision of Judge Hizen.

Mr. Bain said the police and county authorities ought to work together to do the right kind of work in closing the joints.

F. H. Foster said the clubs and joints could be closed independent of the police; that if the county attorney and sheriff would work together they could close up everything. He said he believed in the detective way of procuring evidence, as the club men will not convict one another.

J. W. Gled said: "Whenever a man has had luck and everything goes against him we are told it usually drives him to drink. One said that was what was the matter with this community and this state, it is suffering from a kind of moral slump."

If the county attorney will do his duty every disreputable place in Topeka can be closed before election day.

Rev. Stewart Sheldon said he endorsed all that he said.

Bernard Kelly was called for and he said the principal duty of the members of the crusade should be to stand by and defend under any and all circumstances. Rev. Charles M. Sheldon who had started this work moving. He said any person who does not believe that the politicians are making a systematic effort to break down the prohibition sentiment in Kansas and turn the state over to the liquor men, ought to be sent to an insane asylum. The place to fight them he said is at the ballot box.

Thos. H. Bain then said he thought the meeting ought to appoint several committees of five members each to call on the clubs and request them to close up; one to call on the county attorney and sheriff; one to call on the Topeka club and request it to close up; one to get information to conduct prosecutions, one to call on the police commissioners and one to look after the drug stores—thirty-four in number.

G. M. Bain of Lowman Hill objected to calling on any club or joint and requesting it to close; he said the proper thing to do is to go after them with the law.

Frank Foster and Bernard Kelly then called for W. H. Bennington, and Mr. Bennington told about having gone into a club a block and a half from Sixth street and Kansas avenue last Saturday afternoon and helping to drink three bottles of beer. He said in the crowd of seven men in the room at the time, all drinking beer, four of the seven are holding appointive positions at the state house. Bennington criticized the ministers and the Christian and anti-temperance cause he said they talk one way and vote another. Rev. L. Blakesley challenged the statement. Bennington then asked him if he did not vote for Humphrey for his first term, and as replied "Yes."

"Didn't you vote for him for his second term?"

"No, I did not," replied Mr. Blakesley and Bennington sat down amidst some confusion. The meeting then adjourned after the permanent organization had been announced.

The permanent organization is as follows: President, Samuel T. Howe; vice president, John Mulvey; secretary, H. C. Bowman; treasurer, H. C. Bowman; executive committee, S. B. Bradford, chairman, H. C. Bain, H. H. Fowler, Mrs. L. E. Carson, Mrs. Faye Lyon, G. Estro, P. L. B. Brakesley, M. T. Campbell, Alex. Harris, J. H. Nystrom, D. C. Carson, H. R. Adams, Rev. C. M. Sheldon, A. B. Johnson, J. W. Gled, Mrs. Thomas Page, A. K. Rodgers, A. P. Wilder, Mrs. M. E. Pecune and J. H. Pount.

A CANDID WITNESS.

He Doesn't Mind Telling the Court About His Affairs.

There was a candid witness in Judge Hizen's court yesterday. He was William L. Johnston from whom his wife Eva J. Johnston is seeking a divorce.

Mr. Johnston was a Santa Fe engineer who lost his left arm in a wreck, and only recently got $5,000 damages which was paid in cash. An order was made in the district court to prevent him disposing of any of his property pending the divorce trial, and alimony of $2,000 was granted to Mrs. Johnston. The husband claims that he was not duly notified of the action of the court, so he bought a draft at the Bank of Topeka for $4,600 which he cashed in St. Joe. He was arrested and brought back to Topeka to show cause why he should not be locked up for contempt of court.

The case was heard in the district court today, and Mr. Johnston's lawyers are making an effort to have the judgment set aside. The case was resumed this afternoon and is still on trial.

Mr. Johnston is a large man with the air of one who would be jolly company in a strange town. In course of the examination the following dialogue occurred:

"What did you go to Kansas City for?"

"To have a time."

"What do you call a time?"

"Getting drunk."

"Are you in the habit of getting drunk?"

"Every time I have the price."

"Where were you arrested?"

"I was over in Wyandotte, shooting craps."

DOUBLED THE PRICE.

It Costs Fifty Cents to Telephone Long Distances Now.

A new pay schedule on the toll lines of the Missouri and Kansas telephone company went into effect Sunday. The rate from Topeka to Kansas City, St. Joseph and other points of similar distance is now 30 cents for five minutes of conversation, and 25 cents for every five minutes thereafter. The rate has been 25 cents heretofore. The increase is made because of the heavy expense the telephone company has been to in perfecting its toll lines with copper wire and other up-to-date improvements. It is intended to make, as far as possible, a rate of 1 cent a mile for five minutes' conversation.

LOCAL MENTION.

Jasper Jamieson has petitioned in the district court for a divorce from Elizabeth Jamieson. They were married March 28, 1887. In the petition the plaintiff alleges of his wife that "she is a woman of bad character, vile temper and addicted to the use of profane language." Other things are also alleged, but no co-responder is named.

In the case of the Western Union Telegraph company against Garvey, Holliday & Co., a judgment of $384 was rendered for the plaintiff in the district court yesterday. The case is one brought by the telegraph people to collect rent from the Press for three months. Garvey & Holliday are responsible for the rent, and Editor Chapman is responsible to them.

OUR MAYOR TIED UP.

He's Strike Bound in Missouri But the Council Meets

AND TRANSACTS MUCH BUSINESS.

Five Bites of New Sidewalks Are to Be Bait at Once—Other Matters.

The city council had to do business without Mayor T. W. Harrison last night. The mayor is somewhere over in Missouri stranded, unable to go or come on account of the strike. He telegraphed to City Clerk McFadden last evening from Trenton, Mo.: "Stranded here. Been trying several days to get home. Got this far by team and freight train. Will be home first train."

The council was in session nearly three hours last night and worked hard to catch their salaries.

After the meeting had adjourned and most of the members were down at the foot of the stairs one of the councilmen happened to think that the most important matter of the session hadn't been disposed of. It was the sidewalk report.

The city councilmen went back upstairs, called a special session, and proceeded to accept the report of the committee on streets and walks, which contained about five miles of sidewalk.

The report was filed in the form of a petition, by W. E. Sierra, L. S. Woolverton, John J. Curran, A. W. Kowles, Joseph R. and ten others, to be laid out. At other times said it would be more in conformity with the law to have the new walks petitioned for by the customary fifteen citizens. The report was adopted but not read, as it covers twenty typewritten pages. It will be published after ten days, and after ten days more can be read by the public. There are about 1,100 feet condemned by the report, or 27,500 feet. This is equivalent to 5-3-24 miles.

Petitions and Communications.

James Fuston, better known as "Hockey Jim," petitioned for the right to peddle vase line alive and soap free of charge. He told a partial story about having only one arm. The request was referred.

The police force seems to have been unable to frighten Fuston out of town.

S. H. Barrett, agent of Sells Brothers' circus, asked to exhibit in Topeka free of the usual license ($100). He said that Sells Brothers had done more to advertise Topeka than anything else except the Populist administration. On motion of Mr. Johnson the license was reduced fifty dollars.

The Populists were granted the use of the city park for a ratification on the 13th, provided they would clean up the debris. Mr. Bradford was in favor of fixing up the city park so as to make it a fit place for all kinds of political meetings.

There is water in Dr. Hamilton's cellar, as there has been ever since Hamilton hall was built. He asked the street commissioner to investigate it; he considers it due to the city's neglect.

Secretary L. T. Young of the police board, asked that the sanitary police be made to wear different badges than the star of the regular police officer, so as to distinguish them. The request was referred to the city attorney.

W. J. Staggs asked for a change of the width of the sidewalk on the west side of Topeka avenue between Eighth and Ninth streets, so as to save some large shade trees. Referred.

Rev. P. Price asked for the use of the city park for a picnic on August 1st.

N. D. McGinley asked to use the city park, but gave no date. It was referred back to the petitioner.

Sixteen residents near Tenth and Jackson streets asked to have the pile of street railway ties removed from that corner, as it makes a resting place for loafers and thugs. It was so ordered.

Mr. Bradford said it would cost $80 to remove them. This is equivalent to 1200 fates.

Some time ago S. S. Ott was given permission to connect with a sewer not in his district by paying $50 a number. Since others have been granted the same right without paying anything, but giving bond, Mr. Ott was present and submitted a kick last night. The matter will be reconsidered.

A protest signed by C. L. Vanderpool and nineteen others against the construction of the sewer in district No. 17 was referred.

Frank Lancker, who has six children to support and whose average income for the past year has been less than $1 a day, asked to peddle small, home-made articles free of license. Referred.

The second-hand junk dealers asked an amendment to the license ordinance so they will not have to keep a record of articles of less value than $5. Referred.

An old man named Wilkerson, over 70 years of age, was granted permission to run a peanut stand on Quincy street near Sixth.

Mrs. F. A. Kennedy, a poor woman who "don't want to beg," was given permission to peddle small articles of her own manufacture.

The colored O. I. Fellows were granted the use of the city park for July 10.

City Finances.

The report of the city treasurer shows the following balances:

Cash, $5,088
Bank of Topeka, $112,300
Fiscal agency, $834
General revenue fund, $11,600
Engineer's department, $148
General improvement fund, $14,900
Sinking fund, $424
Interest fund, $4,100
Labor fund, $148
Construction fund, $41,800

The total expense of the city was $19,429.98. The principal items are included in the following:

City offices, $731.66
Commissioner of elections, $150.00
Sanitary department, $325.00
Fire department, $1,336.15
Metropolitan police, $19,485.85
Engineer's department, $148.00
Road, water supply, $7,235.00
Interest, $4,100.13
City library expense, $7.00
Sun Vapor street lights, $409.50
Electric light payroll, $430.00
Southwestern fuel company, $214.92

Births and Deaths.

The report of City Physician Hibben showed that on the first of the month there were two cases of diphtheria, six cases of scarlet fever and 19 of measles. There were 45 births of which 31 were males and 14 females. There were also 40 deaths, classified as follows:

Whooping cough, 1; inflammation of bowels, 2; paralysis, 2; old age, 4; still-born, 6; dropsy, 2; cancer, 4; meningitis, 1; heart trouble, 1; consumption, 5; inflammation of stomach, 2; catarrhs, 1; pneumonia, 1; scarlet fever, 2; abscess, 1; general weakness, 1; diarrhoea, 1; opening of the brain, 1; cholera infantum.

Cause let us.

The police judge collected $308 in June from 111 culprits.

License Collector Vanderpool raised $29,53 last month, and Food Inspector Gaudin succeeded in getting together $210.30.

The anti-cigarette ordinance passed unanimously. It makes it unlawful to sell or give away any preparation of tobacco or opium to minors under 16 years of age, and provides for a $10 fine for the violation of these provisions.

An ordinance was passed appropriating $400 to pay the expense of the trial of the Decker, Mullins & Berry sewer case at Lawrence.

The street commissioners were ordered to drain the street at the junction of Eighth and Tenth streets near the cemetery. The water stands there in a pond after every rain.

Some of the property owners who petitioned some time ago for the opening of First street east of the Santa Fe shops, protested against it last night when they found they would have to pay for the street, which is a part of the Kline estate. A. W. Dana appeared for the property owners. The matter was carried over.

A colored man from the Fifth ward sent in a bill for $25 for damage done to his chicken coops and potato patch by the recent high water. He'll get it—no doubt.

It was agreed to pave the intersection of the tracks at Tenth and Jackson streets with brick.

Washington street will be graded between Tenth and Fifteenth streets on account of the water.

An ordinance to prevent "dead wires" was passed, which makes it punishable by a fine of $100 for any company to allow such wires to remain up. The superintendent of the electric light plant is made city electrician, with orders to enforce this law.

Col. Burgess offered a resolution, which was adopted, ordering the city engineer to make plans for the improvement of the city jail yard and a new and more extensive workhouse. This improvement is one that is greatly needed.

A new catch basin was ordered to be put in on the northwest corner of Eighth and Taylor streets.

All of the members of the council were present last night. The adjournment was taken until next Monday night.

Pimples, boils and other humors of the blood are liable to break out in the warm weather. Prevent it by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.
